Brought to

I have been producing this newsletter for 9 years!! Recently I had to donate to keep it going when I thought another one of my friends would take over the Topeka Newsletter that I keep it FREE. I will accept any donations to announce who they are and share this site as much as you can, it not only feels good but it helps

9 years!! It is a FREE way to promote your locally owned businesses and with my new jobs, I had to rethink if I had the time to do it. I was really taken by surprise by the reaction of some of my friends who thought the newsletter will actually be underwritten by businesses and REAL professional website!! These friends believe that the community and they want to see it continue. I want to make sure I don't have time to organize structured advertising prices but I am excited about the partnerships and can't wait to get the newsletter and helping spread the word!! Make sure to share this site as much as you can, it not only feels good but it helps is awesome party! My friend Brooks and his partner own a flight management company. This year they changed the company name to Vaerus Aviation! My friend Robin attended the party with me and we had a blast!!

Robin's Excellent Adventures

Company Christmas Party for Vendors and Customers: In 2014, I started a new job! I accepted the position as Accountant for my friend's company, Kansas Trucking. It is a growing business that deals with dump trucks and hauling materials all over Kansas and Missouri. I know accounting but trucking is an entirely new field that I had NO CLUE about. I am slowly but surely learning about trucking. For the holiday season, we invited our vendors and customers to join us for lunch. Sunflower Paving and Kansas Trucking are separate companies but are housed in the same building so the party included both companies.

BINGO NIGHT with high school friends: This had to be one of the best nights yet. I had been wanting to go play BINGO for quite some time. When Teri invited me to go, I said YES immediately! She invited our friend Susan and I invited our friend Kellie. I had not really gone out with either of these amazing ladies since high school! We had a blast and I am pretty sure some of the BINGO regulars wanted to kick us out!

Chief's Game #3 I had not planned on attending this game. I had given the tickets to my friend Ryan. I actually thought it would be too cold for me. He was unable to go and the weather was amazing. I had promised my friend Erin that if I was able to get more tickets, I would take her. She was excited when she got the invite. She hadn't been in 11 years and she has to be one of the biggest "girl" sports nut I know. I stayed in KC the night before so we got an early start and actually tailgated this time. She had friends that were there so we hung out with them!! Not to brag but I went to 3 games and they won all 3!!

Kansas City Christmas Party: What a fun night! I love having friends all over the place. This night was spent with some of my KC friends celebrating the holidays! The Marengos put out a really nice spread of food and we took it from there. Tony bought a new party machine so that helped out later on!!

Topeka Civic Theatre: This month we went to see A Miracle on 34th Street! It was a great show for the holiday season!! I was sad to miss other holiday shows but my schedule just wouldn't allow it this year!!

Schultz Christmas: I will be honest with you. Christmas just isn't the same without my grandparents and my dad! I also miss buying tons of toys!! I miss the big gathering of aunts, uncles and cousins! This year I was able to actually buy gifts for all those people who helped me with my 2014 life style change so that was cool!! It has been along time since I had the money to buy presents for anyone outside my immediate family! This year, I wanted to express my gratitude to all those amazing people who were there for me. That did help make the season better!! Our small family gathered and had a great meal, brought to you by the color yellow. Then we sat around and opened gifts and made fun of each other. Just another normal Christmas with a Schultz!

Chelsea enjoyed shopping for me this year!! I loved my new license plate!!

Don't Dress for Dinner January 17 - February 7, 2015

A sexy fantastic farce by Marc Camoletti and Robin Hawdon
Produced through special arrangement with Samuel French Play Service

Bernard is planning a romantic weekend with his chic Parisian mistress in his charming converted French farmhouse, whilst his wife, Jacqueline, is away. He has arranged for a cordon bleu cook to prepare gourmet delights, and has invited his best friend, Robert, along too to provide the alibi. It's foolproof; what could possibly go wrong? Well... suppose Robert turns up not realizing quite why he has been invited. Suppose Robert and Jacqueline are secret lovers, and consequently determined that Jacqueline will NOT leave for the weekend. Suppose the cook has to pretend to be the mistress and the mistress is unable to cook. Suppose everyone's alibi gets confused with everyone else's. An evening of hilarious confusion ensues as Bernard and Robert improvise at breakneck speed.

Raggedy Ann & Andy February 13 - 22, 2015

An adventure for the child in all of us. Adapted for the stage by Patricia Thackray. Based on the Bobs-Merrill book.
Produced through special arrangement with Dramatic Publishing

Raggedy Ann, America's most endearing and enduring folk doll, comes to life in a production that captures the imagination. The story unfolds in a special playroom where wonderful, magical events transpire. A newcomer has arrived in the playroom, a fancy French doll named Babette. But that very evening, a certain prince Leonard-the-Looney-Hearted comes riding by on his hobby horse and whisks her away to Looney-land. Raggedy Ann knows what she must do! She and Andy climb out the window into the "deep, deep woods" to fetch Babette and bring her back home.

Alex DePue with Miguel De Hoyos, Friday, January 9, 2015 - 7:30 pm
Alex DePue began taking classical violin lessons at age five, won his first major competition at age 10, and later (age 16) won a competition that entitled him to perform at Carnegie Hall with the National Guild Youth Orchestra. He has continued to win competitions and appear as a guest soloist with orchestras and at festivals worldwide. Alex recently teamed up with Mexican guitarist Miguel De Hoyos and "the two perform an engaging and often virtuosic combination of

Set in a department store, four women with seemingly nothing in common but a blacklace bra on sale, come to find they have more to share than ever imagined. The all-female cast makes fun of their woeful hot flashes, forgetfulness, mood swings, wrinkles, night sweats and chocolate binges. A sisterhood is created between these diverse women as they realize that menopause is no longer The Silent Passage, but a stage in every woman’s life that is perfectly normal!

“Most women know intuitively that every other woman is experiencing hot flashes or night sweats,” says author Jeanie C. Linders. “There is always a close friend or two who can sympathize or identify, but when they are sitting in a theatre with hundreds of other women, all laughing and shouting ‘That’s me! That’s me on stage!’ They know what they are experiencing is normal. They aren’t alone or crazy. It becomes a sisterhood.”

It’s the Hilarious Celebration of Women and The Change!

Don Williams

Thursday, February 26th at 7:30 PM

Tickets $55.00, $39.50, $29.50

There are few American classics these days, but Don Williams is certainly one of them. With a warm hickory baritone that balances strength with a gentle concern, he draws his listener into the intimate world of an old friend, someone who cares deeply about you and the quality of your life ... and who will always offer a hand when you need it.

Reflections, released by Sugar Hill on March 11, yields Williams at his finest, with his classic, often-copied-but-never-duplicated baritone front and center. It’s this style that has made Don a ballad vocal model for performers ranging from Eric Clapton (with whom he’d traded songs- “Tulsa Time,” “Lay Down Sally”) to Keith Urban (who guested on 2012’s And So It Goes). With a healthy touring schedule and his second album in two years, Williams works hard to maintain that voice beloved by so many.

“I don’t think there’s anything we have to do daily in our walk that’s more important than how we deal with each other,” Williams confesses. “To me, it’s everything. So when you’re looking for songs, if they can express that, then you’ve found something special.” Without a doubt Williams, whose hits with the likes of “Good Ole Boys Like Me,” “I Believe In You,” “Love Is On A Roll,” “Amanda” and “Tulsa Time,” have always had a knack for finding songs that speak directly to people’s hearts.

On February 23, 2010, the Country Music Association announced that Don Williams was to be inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame. Don Williams has called this “the biggest honor of my life.”
